

Preparing Preceptors for Success: Leadership Essentials for Preceptors

Wednesday, May 14, 2025

9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. ET via Zoom

Good nurse preceptors are a valuable asset for units and organizations. When preceptors are able to successfully deliver a good onboarding experience for new hires, they can directly impact retention, build trust within the nursing team, and elevate nursing practice.

Led by Dr. Crystal Lawson, this interactive virtual workshop is designed to expose preceptors to the principles of adult learning theory and prepare them with tools to help newly hired nurses practice safely and feel welcomed. Participants will learn key strategies for giving feedback and practice skills that will help them effectively pass on their knowledge and promote safe practice.

Topics covered will include:

- The role and responsibilities of preceptors
- Building trust and helping new employees become part of the team
- Adult learning styles
- Providing feedback
- Asking questions that promote critical thinking, assessment, and prioritization
- Communicating performance to leadership and other preceptors
- Managing interpersonal conflict
