Normella Walker

Understanding, Navigating and Cultivating a Culture of Inclusive Excellence

How can leaders foster a culture that allows all people to thrive? The journey to inclusive excellence requires understanding the internal and external landscape as well as a commitment to the journey. Normella will discuss how leaders can leverage existing skills and strengths to navigate dynamic differences to make inclusive excellence possible.

Half A Shade Braver: The Foundations of Conversational Leadership

We most effectively commit to a direction we wish to take by making three invitations: First, by identifying the horizon to which we wish to go; second, by articulating the ground on which we stand; and last, by asking others to join us in getting from here to there. David looks at seven crucial thresholds that deepen conversations and shape a more conversational, invitational identity.
