

Best Practice Solutions to Disruptive Behaviors in Healthcare

Practical Strategies for Nurse Leaders

October 25, 2023 · 9:30 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. via Zoom

In hospitals across the globe, we are seeing an alarming increase in workplace stress and cruelty. There is infighting among staff, tension between shifts, and new employees and float staff are being squashed. Worse yet, healthcare professionals are airing their frustrations in front of patients, which increases patient anxiety and interferes with their recovery. As healthcare leaders, we have an opportunity to change that.

In this interactive, 2.5 hour workshop, you will:

- Understand the common ways disruptive behaviors show up in healthcare today
- Discover healthy workforce best practice solutions to these challenges
- Gain the tools YOU need to address disruptive behaviors in the workplace
- Become equipped to create a *culture of caring within your organization
- Connect with colleagues who share dedication to creating positive change

ONL is excited to host Dr. Renee Thompson for this informative and engaging workshop. Dr. Thompson is recognized for her expertise in addressing bullying and incivility in nursing and creating cultures that promote healthy work environments.
