The Nuts and Bolts of Nursing Leadership

The value of professional development for new leaders cannot be overstated. ONL is excited to offer this highly-reviewed, virtual, 1-day leadership development workshop for both new and aspiring leaders. The Nuts and Bolts of Nursing Leadership is designed to assist new leaders with key skills necessary to be successful in any organization. The interactive program will address transitioning into a leadership role; communication and collaboration, including power and authority; resource management; and managing staff performance.

Program participants will receive a PDF workbook with slides, tactical tools and supporting resources for future reference.
